Transform Your Space, Quick and Easy Home Improvement Ideas: Interior design is the art and science of enhancing the interior of a building to create a healthier and more aesthetically pleasing environment for those who use the space. An interior designer is someone who plans, researches, coordinates and directs such improvement projects. An interior designer is a multifaceted profession that includes concept development, space planning, site visits, scheduling, research, communication with project stakeholders, construction management, etc., and project execution.

Past and Present

Typical interior of one of the houses in the Vlkolíniec Folk Architecture Park (Slovakia)

In the past, interiors were designed instinctively as part of the building process.[1]
